Hospital

In a Psychiatric Hospital, a Journalist asks the Doctor, "How do you determine whether to admit a person as a patient or not?"

"Well," replied the doctor, "we'd fill a bathtub with water and then give a teaspoon, a glass and a bucket to the patient and ask them to empty the bathtub."

The journalist said, "Oh, obviously a normal person would use the bucket because its bigger."

The doctor replied, "No, a normal person would pull the drain plug! Please go to bed #39. We will soon start further testing on you."

Toy Oven

Our two boys received as a gift a "Kreepy Krauly" toy oven, a small oven used to bake plastic bugs. The boys prepared the first tray of bugs and slid it into the oven to bake.

The younger one asked his older brother if he could look through the clear plastic window at the top of the oven to watch the baking in progress.

"No," the older brother replied, "you don't have the right kind of eyes. It says right here that you need adult super vision."

Son-In-Law

The prospective son-in-law was asked by his girlfriend's father, "Son, can you support a family?"

"Well, no, sir," he replied, caught off-guard by the question. "Your daughter and I were thinking we'd just have to support ourselves, the rest of you will have to fend for yourselves."

Old Age

A man was standing in front of the bathroom mirror one evening admiring his reflection, when he posed the following question to his wife of 20 years, "Will you still love me when I'm old, fat, and balding?"

She answered, "Of course I will. I've already been doing it for the past 5 years haven't I?"

Maturing

During a sixth grade sex education class, the young professor asked, "What happens to a young woman during puberty?"

There was no reply from her students, so she rephrased the question. "What happens to young women as they mature?"

One girl raised her hand and answered, "We start carrying purses?"

New Piano

My Dad bought my Mom a piano for her birthday. A few weeks later, I asked how she was doing with it.

"Oh," said My Dad, "I persuaded her to switch to a clarinet."

"How come?" I asked.

"Well," he answered, "because with a clarinet, she can't sing."
