"My bed is a magical place where I suddenly remember everything I need to do."

Fire Alarm

With fire alarms blaring at my mom's apartment complex, she grabbed her favorite bathing suit and ran out.

"A bathing suit?" I said later, "Of all the priceless things in that apartment, that's what you chose to save?"

"Material things come and go," she said. "But a one-piece suit that doesn't make you look fat is impossible to replace."

Groaner

A frog, a duck, and a skunk went to the movies. The frog and duck were allowed to see it, but the skunk wasn't.

Why?

Because the frog had a greenback, the duck had a bill, but the skunk had only one scent.

Stubbed Toe

My young son ran to me, crying. "Daddy, I stubbed my toe," he sobbed.

"Let me kiss it and make it better," I said. "Which toe was it?"

"The one that has no roast beef."

Competitive

My girlfriend and I often laugh about how competitive we are...

But, I laugh more!

Barbershop

A man walks into the barbershop, sits down in the chair and the barber asks, "How do you want your haircut?"

The man says, "I would like the sideburns one high and one low, a few long hairs sticking out of the back and a few chunks on the side and top."

The barber looks puzzled and says, "I'm not sure I can do that."

The customer says, "Why not, you did it that way last time."

Dead Fly

My three-year-old daughter stuck out her hand and said, "Look at the fly I killed, Mommy."

Since she was eating a juicy pickle at the time, I thrust her contaminated hands under the faucet and washed them with antibacterial soap. After sitting her down to finish her pickle, I asked, with a touch of awe, "How did you kill that fly all by yourself?"

Between bites, she said, "I hit it with my pickle."

New Bank

I went to a new bank in town to open a joint account. When they got to the point in the application where they ask for a second name on the account, my reply was, "Anyone who has a lot of money."
