Mental Block

"Have you ever had a mental block when you're trying to spell a word?" I asked my husband. I told him that I had wanted to withdraw $40 that day from our account, but I couldn't remember how to spell "forty."

"What did you do?" he asked.

"I took out $60."

Reading Class

I once taught a junior high reading-skills program. Each day my students received a page of the newspaper and we discussed the news, ads and photos. I encouraged them to share an item I would find interesting.

One student, a shy young man, seldom joined the conversation, but he read his pages diligently. One day I asked him what he had found.

He said, "Did you know that all the people in the obituaries die in alphabetical order?"

Christmas Carols

Alfie had been listening to his sister practicing her singing. "Sis," he said, "I wish you'd sing Christmas Carols."

"That's nice of you, Alfie," she said. "Why?"

"Then I'd only have to hear you once a year!"

Bad Directions

A friend of ours from another city was on her way to our house when suddenly she realized she had made a wrong turn.

She stopped and asked a lady for directions. "Go back down this road through a couple of traffic lights," she was instructed, "then stop and ask someone else."

-NOTICE-

Everyone at Grand General wishes to thank you for your business by providing the "Grand Laffs" publication. If you do not wish to receive "Grand Laffs," please call, fax or e-mail us and we will honor your request.

Golfing Buddies

Three old men went into the pro shop after playing 18 holes of golf.

The pro asked, "Did you guys have a good game today?"

The first old guy said, "I had the most riders ever. I had five."

The second old guy said, "I had 7 riders, the same as last time."

The last old man said, "I beat my old record. I had 12 riders today."

After they went into the locker room, another golfer who had heard the old guys talking about their game went to the pro and said, "I've been playing golf for a long time and thought I knew all the terminology of the game, but what's a rider?"

The pro said, "A rider is when you hit the ball far enough to actually get in the golf cart and ride to it."
