Casino Buffet

As the hostess at the casino buffet showed me to my table, I asked her to keep an eye out for my husband, who would be joining me momentarily. I started to describe him, "He has grey hair, wears glasses, has a potbelly..."

She stopped me there, "Honey," she said, "today is senior day. They all look like that."

Kitchen Utensils

My collection of vintage kitchen utensils includes one whose intended purpose was always a mystery. It looks like a cross between a metal slotted spoon and a spatula, so I use it as both. When not in use, it is prominently displayed in a decorative ceramic utensil caddy in my kitchen.

The mystery of the spoon/spatula was recently solved when I found one in its original packaging at a rummage sale.

It's a pooper-scooper.

Airline

A woman called our airline customer service desk asking if she could take her dog on board.

"Sure," I said, "as long as you provide your own kennel." I further explained that the kennel needed to be large enough for the dog to stand up, sit down, turn around, and roll over.

The customer was flummoxed, "I'll never be able to teach him all of that by tomorrow."

Irate Customer

An irate patient called our pathology group, demanding that I explain every lab test on her statement. "Of course," I said. I brought up her bill, "Number one, urinalysis..."

She interrupted me, "I'm a what?!"

Army Security

I was working in Army security when a VIP from another based called to ask to whom he should address an important letter. Knowing my tough-to-spell last name would give him fits, I said, "Just put down Sergeant Gary, as my last name is too hard."

The next day, I received a letter addressed to Sgt. Gary Toohard.

Wrong Area Code

Today, my 808 area code phone number has yet again been mistaken for a 1-800 number. I've been getting phone calls at three in the morning from people on the East Coast trying to return their shoes. Even worse, they end up wanting to speak to my supervisor because I "don't sound professional enough."

Hedge Clipper

An ad for a hedge clipper that I had to read twice: "A built-in safety switch prevents accidental starting, and blades will stop when you take one hand off."
