Sunblock

We use a really strong sunblock when we go to the beach with the kids. It's SPF 80: You squeeze the tube, and a sweater comes out.

Security Guard

While working in security for a large department store, I was approached by an elderly gentleman who explained he couldn't find his car and wanted to report it stolen.

The store has three entrances, so I suggested perhaps he had come in another way. He insisted he had entered from the south. He gave me the car's description, and I went out to the parking lot, where I found the car at the west entrance.

When I returned to the gentleman with the good news, he asked me if that sort of thing happened often. Unsure what he meant, I asked him to explain.

"Someone moving cars to different parking spots," he replied.

Penny

We had just finished tucking our five kids into bed when three-year-old Billy began to wail. Turns out, he had accidentally swallowed a penny and was sure he was going to die. Desperate to calm him, my husband palmed a penny that he had in his pocket and pretended to put it from Billy's ear. Billy was delighted. In a flash, he snatched it from my husband's hand, swallowed it, and demanded, "Do it again!"

Groaners

What do we want? An iPhone for fat fingers.

When do we want it? BOW!

Someone threw a bottle of Omega3 pills at me.

Luckily my injuries were only super fish oil.

Police Officer

A police officer jumps into his squad car and calls the station.

"I have an interesting case here," he says. "A woman shot her husband for stepping on the floor she just mopped."

"Have you arrested her?" asks the sergeant.

"No, not yet. The floor's still wet."

Attributes

My two daughters were discussing the less than desirable physical attributes they had inherited from their father.

The older one said, "I hate my freckles from Dad."

Her unsympathetic younger sister replied, "At least you got his freckles. I got his eyebrow."

Dentures

My young grandson sat in the bathroom with me, watching as I removed my dentures and brushed them. After a few minutes, he asked, "Can you take your ears off too?"
