"I wouldn't share my secret with just anyone," Simon replies, lowering his voice so the other shoppers won't hear. "Since you're a good and faithful customer, I'll let you in on it. Fish heads, You eat enough of them, you'll be positively brilliant."

"You sell them here?" the customer asks.

"Only $4 a piece," says Simon.

The customer buys three, A week later, he's back in the store complaining that the fish heads were disgusting and he isn't any smarter.

"You didn't eat enough," says Simon. The customer goes home with 20 more fish heads. Two weeks later, he's back and this time he's really angry.

"Hey, Simon," he complains. "You're selling me fish heads for $4 a piece when I can buy the whole fish for $2. You're ripping me off!"

"You see?" says Simon, "you're smarter already."

Furniture Delivery

I was on the phone trying to set up a furniture delivery.

"If you would like to arrange a delivery date, please press one," the automated voice prompted me. "If you would like to confirm delivery, please press two."

At that moment my three-year-old let out an ear-piercing shriek.

"I'm sorry," the automated voice said, "that is not a valid response."

Mercury

Did you know a day on Mercury lasts for 1,408 hours? Same as a Monday on Earth.

Beautiful Dream

Tonight I dreamt of a beautiful walk on a sandy beach.

At least that explains the footprints I found in the cat litter box this morning.

Fishmonger

A customer at Stingray Fishmongers marveled at the owner's quick wit and intelligence.

"Tell me, Simon, what makes you so smart?"
