Souvenir Shop

I was working in the souvenir shop at the Canterbury Cathedral in Kent, England. One afternoon I was talking with another attendant who happened to work in the cathedral itself when we were approached by two tourists.

"Are you a monk?" one of the women asked.

"No," the attendant explained, "I wear this robe as part of my job, but I'm not a member of any religious order."

"Then where are the monks?" asked the woman.

The man replied, "Oh there haven't been any monks here since 1215."

Hearing this, the woman looked at her watch and announced to her friend, "Betty, we missed the monks."

Teacher's Note

A school teacher sends home a note with a student. The note reads, "Your son is an obedient and bright student, but spends too much time talking to girls."

The mother sends a note back the following day, "Please advise a solution. His father has the same problem."

Baby Mosquito

It was a baby mosquito's first day to fly out from home.

When the mosquito came back home later that day, the father mosquito asked, "How was your journey?"

The baby mosquito replied, "It went great, everyone was clapping for me."

Camping

My friends asked me to go camping so I made a list of things I will need:
1. New friends.

Groaner

Q. What did the dog breeder get when she crossed an Irish Setter with a Pointer at Christmastime?

A. A Pointsetter

Dad of the Bride

My nephew was getting married to a doctor's daughter.

At the wedding reception, the father of the bride stood to read his toast, which he had scribbled on a piece of scrap paper. Several times during his speech, he halted, overcome with what I assumed was a moment of deep emotion.

But after a particularly long pause, he explained, "I'm sorry, I can't seem to make out what I've written down."

Looking out into the audience, he asked, "Is there a pharmacist in the house?"
