himself, "Boy, a talking horse!" Dollar signs started appearing in his head. So he runs to the house where the old farmer is sitting on the porch. The jogger tells the farmer, "Hey man, I'll give you $5,000 for that old broken down nag you've got in the field."

The farmer replies, "Son, you can't believe anything that horse says. He's never even been to Kentucky."

Old Suitcase

At the end of a visit to Amsterdam, a friend borrowed an old suitcase from his hosts to carry home his souvenirs. At the airport, however, a customs officer subjected our friend's luggage to a thorough search and even sent for a drug-sniffing dog. Sure enough, the dog entered the area, headed straight for the borrowed bag, and went into a frenzy. The customs officer now intensified his search, but ultimately he found nothing.

After arriving home, the young man immediately phoned his hosts and told them how puzzled he'd been by the dog's behavior.

"Perhaps," the owner of the suitcase said, "it was because that's the bag our cat usually sleeps in."

Split Second

The old definition of a split second is the time between the light turning green and when the driver behind you honks their horn.

The new definition of a split second is the time between when the commercial starts and your spouse says, "You have the remote!"

Elderly Friends

An elderly man went to his friend's house to have a little chitchat. He told his friend, "I know a man with a wooden leg named Smith."

His friend then asked, "So what's the name of his other leg?"

Talking Horse

A jogger running down a country road is startled as a horse yells at him, "Hey, come over here buddy!" the jogger is stunned, but runs over to the fence where the horse is standing and asks, "Were you talking to me?"

The horse replies, "Sure was, man I've got a problem. I won the Kentucky Derby a few years ago and this farmer bought me and now all I do is pull a plow and I'm sick if it. Why don't you run up to the house and offer him $5,000 to buy me. I'll make you some money cause I can still run.

The jogger thought to

Ancestry

"My ancestry goes back all the way to Alexander the Great," said Christine. She then turned to Miriam and asked, "How far back does your family go?"

"I don't know," replied Miriam, "all of our records were lost in the flood."
