New Doctor

Due to a job transfer, Brian moved from his hometown to New York City. Being that he had a very comprehensive health history, he brought along all of his medical paperwork when it came time for his first check-up with his new doctor. The doctor kept glancing at Brian as he reviewed the medical paperwork.

After browsing through the extensive medical history, the doctor stared at Brian for a few moments and said, "Well there's one thing I can say for certain, you sure look better in person than you do on paper!"

Super Market

I was checking out at the busy super market, and the cashier was having problems. The register ran out of paper, the scanner malfunctioned, and finally the cashier spilled a handful of coins. When she totaled my order, it came to exactly $22.

Trying to soothe her nerves, I said, "That's a nice round figure."

Still frazzled, she glared at me and said, "You're no bean pole yourself."

How does Bigfoot tell time?

With a Sasq-watch.

Job Applicant

A boss was telling an applicant the two main rules of the company. "He said, "Our 2nd main rule is cleanliness. Did you wipe your feet on the mat before coming in?"

The applicant replied, "Yes, sir, I did."

Then the boss said, "Our 1st main rule is trustworthiness. You see, there was no mat."

Easter Bunny

My sister was busy getting ready to host our entire family for Easter. On her to-do list was a hair appointment for her daughter.

"So, Katie," said the stylist as the little girl got up in the chair, "who's coming to your house this weekend with big ears and floppy feet?"

Katie replied, "I think it's my Uncle Brian."

Insurance Broker

An insurance broker, living in Florida, loved ocean fishing and decided to take his boat out for a troll. That morning, he was drifting about ten miles offshore and received a business call on his cell phone.

Suddenly, his rod bent double and the reel screamed as line poured off the spool. The salesman was a master of the situation.

"Pardon me," he told his customer calmly. "I have a call on another line."

Cat

My cat went completely insane when I told him he was adopted. I spelled it out with a laser pointer.
