City Boy

Kenny, a city boy, moved to the country and purchased a car from a farmer for $100. The farmer agreed to deliver the car the following day. The next morning, the farmer drove up and said, "Sorry, son, but I have some bad news. The car broke down."

"OK, well just return my money to me," Kenny said.

"Sorry, can't do that," said the farmer. "I already spent it."

OK then, just unload the car," said Kenny.

"Watcha gonna do with it?" asked the farmer.

"I'm going to raffle it off,"

Kenny replied.

"You can't raffle off a broken-down car!" the farmer exclaimed.

"Of course I can," replied Kenny. "Watch me. I just won't tell anybody it doesn't work."

A few weeks later, the farmer met up with Kenny and asked, "So, what happened with the car?"

"I raffled it off. I sold 500 tickets at two dollars a piece and made a profit of $898," explained Kenny.

"Didn't anyone complain?" inquired the farmer.

"Kenny proudly replied, "Just the guy who won, so I gave him his two dollars back."

Dude Ranch

My wife and I went to a "Dude Ranch" while in Texas.

The cowboy preparing the horses asked if she wanted a Western or English saddle. She asked what the difference was. He told her one had a horn and one didn't.

"Well," she replied, "the one without the horn is fine. I don't expect we'll run into too much traffic."

Groaners

A bloke on a tractor had just driven past me shouting, "The end of the world is tonight!"

I'm not positive, but I think it was Farmer Geddon.

I joined an acting company. We did a theatrical performance about puns. It was a play on words.

Older Couple

An older couple was asking for a room with a king, queen or double bed. The clerk apologized and said that the only rooms available had twin beds.

Disappointed, the man remarked, "I don't know, we've been sharing the same bed for 44 years."

"Could you possibly put them close together?" the wife asked.

Several people nearby smiled, and someone commented, "How romantic."

Then the woman finished her request with, "Because if he snores, I want him close enough to be able to elbow him."
