Christmas Gift

December is the month when the kids begin to discuss what to get Dad for Christmas.

Some insist on a shirt.

Others insist on a pair of socks.

The argument always ends in a tie.

Conspiracy Case

At a clearance sale, the wife of a federal district court judge found a green tie that was a perfect match for one of her husband's sports jackets. Soon after, while the husband was hearing a complicated cocaine conspiracy case, he noticed a small round disc sewn into the design of the tie.

The judge showed it to an FBI agent, who was equally suspicious that it might be a bug planted by the conspiracy defendants. The agent sent the device to FBI headquarters in Washington DC for analysis.

Two weeks later, the judge phoned the Washington office to learn the results of their tests. "We're not sure where the disc came from," the FBI told him, "but we discovered that when you press it, it plays 'Jingle Bells'."

Bus Driver

As a school bus driver one Saturday morning I was driving a high school choir to a competition meet. I parked the bus at the school and soon students started boarding. Nobody said hello or asked if I was the charter bus or anything.

The choir director boarded, counted the students, and said it was OK to leave, also not asking if it was the correct bus.

About two miles down the road I spoke up in a loud voice saying, "When we get to the work site the deputies will issue each of you an orange vest, gloves, and two plastic trash bags. When you fill a bag leave it beside the road. When you need more bags raise your hand and the deputies will give you more."

I then looked in the mirror to see the most shocked kids I've ever seen. I explained what happened to the director; and we both, or perhaps I should say all, had a good laugh. Bet those kids never "assumed" they were on the correct bus again.

Exercise

One of my friends hates exercise. To her, getting up in the morning is a moving violation.

The only exercise she gets is pushing her luck, stretching the truth, and jumping to conclusions.

Although, she has been know to carry a grudge.

Frosty

Frosty the snowman was spotted looking through the carrot bin at the local supermarket...he was picking his nose.

Workers' Compensation

We are continuously expanding our available workers' compensation markets.

Some of our companies offer monthly payroll reporting, which means no end-of-year surprises.

Call us on every risk even if you've been turned down before!
